- Tennis players must have left the court no later than 5 minutes after the end of their reserved playing time.
- At the end of the period of play, players put away their belongings, collect all their waste, leave the court and then the sport centre, taking care not to put their hands on or near their faces.
- Once outside the centre the players disinfect their hands.

- A member of the TCPC who invite a person, is responsible for his or her guest. This means that the inviting member must be able to inform the health authorities of the identity of the guest at any time.
